

SNOWSHOEING IN THE ABONDANCE VALLEY

Cheese makers, smugglers and original walks!

Between Lake Geneva and the Mont Blanc is the multifaceted Chablais... A mountain range full of quiet valleys and small peaks. Far from the noise of ski lifts lies a perfect wilderness for snowshoeing, with a blank canvas of snow revealing the secrets of an abundant and vulnerable animal life. A historic valley with a rich artistic heritage seen in the beautiful chalets, churches and abbey. A culturally rich region where mountain traditions are still alive.

The route

Day 1

Meet Sunday at 6:30pm at the Hôtel* du Feraillon for a presentation and safety briefing with your mountain leader.

Snowshoeing in the Alps depends a lot on the weather and the snow conditions, especially considering the avalanche risk. This program can be changed during the week if the conditions demand it, for a matter of safety. The mountain leader makes the final decision about every hike and gives a briefing with the group every evening to present the next day's program.

Walking times and elevations given here are approximate, the guide will adjust the pace and the length of the hikes depending on the group.

Day 2

COL DE LA PLAGNE AND CHALETS D'AUTIGNY

From a spot known as Sauvage, climb to the Col de la Plagne at 1550m, then a loop route to the Chalet d'Autigny. The panorama from this point reveals the Mont Blanc to one side and Lake Geneva to the other. This area is also a hiding spot for chamois which can be easily observed with binoculars. Picnic lunch and an exercise in avalanche rescue using a transceiver, shovel and probe.

4.5 hour walk / Elevation: +/- 400m

Day 3

POINTE D'ARDENT (1959m)

At the heart of the Abondance valley, where the famous cheese is made, stand several peaks at 2000m. One of them is easily accessible on snowshoes. High mountain atmosphere perched over a charming valley. Turning around, the Mont Blanc appears through the Fenêtre d'Ardens.

6 hour walk / Elevation: +/- 500 to 700m (depending on the group and snow conditions)

Day 4

PAS DE LA BOSSE, LAND OF IBEX

From the Chalets de Chevennes climb to the Chalets de Mens then to the Pas de la Bosse, winter home for ibex. We will hopefully have the chance to observe discreetly the robustness of these animals and their daily struggle against the elements.

5 hour walk / Elevation: +/- 450m to 700m (depending on the group)

Day 5

CHALETS OF LENS AND HERITAGE OF THE ABONDANCE VALLEY

Day hike to the Chalets de Lens and possibility to reach the Col de Bassachaux, on ancient smugglers routes. Here also is a haven for spotting many chamois. Picnic on arrival at the chalets and the descend into the valley. Possible visit of the old customs office a fabulous smugglers museum (*option not included in the price).

5 hour walk / Elevation: +/- 550m

Day 6

RIDGE OF LESCHAUX, BELVEDERE DES CORNETTES

Depart to the hamlet of Crébin under the Mont de Grange. After a quick climb to reach the ridge, the path follows a spectacular ridge path facing the mountains. Stop at the farm shop where they makes and sell the famous nutty tasting Abondance cheese. Return to the hotel around 3:00pm.

End point around 3:00pm at the hotel.

Possibility to visit the historic abbey of Abondance, classified as an historic monument.

This itinerary is susceptible to change depending on snow conditions and the possibility of unknown factors affecting the itinerary, including situations beyond our control which may change the route, timings etc.
