

TOUR OF PIERRA MENTA SNOWSHOEING

Winter roaming in the heart of the Beaufortain

The giant Gargantua is believed to have created the Pierra Menta. Legend has it that he kicked her from the Aravis, 30 km away. This monolith perched on a ridge became an emblematic peak of the Beaufortain and even gave its name to one of the most famous ski-mountaineering races in the world. Fortunately the slopes around it are soft and lend themselves well to snowshoeing. In the heart of the massif, it will take 4 days to reach it and return, this allows a small crossing of the massif. Ideally located, the route offers beautiful views of the Mont-Blanc massif, the Ecrins massif, the Prealps and all the Savoyard massifs.

- A total immersion in the heart of the massif
- The discreet but constant presence of wildlife with sometimes beautiful observations!
- The passage near the Pierra Menta
- Nights in guarded and warm shelters

The route

Day 1

RDV in the village of Grand-Naves in the commune of La Léchère at 9am.

GRAND NAVES – REFUGE DU NANT DU BEURRE

Departure from the small village of Grand-Naves and its northern domain. Climb to the communal refuge of Nant du Beurre and its panoramic view of Vanoise and Lauzière. The afternoon break will allow you to discover and practice with avalanche rescue equipment. Overnight at the shelter in dormitory.

3 hours walk/ Altitude difference +750m - 5km

Day 2

COL DES GENISSES – COL DE LA GRANDE COMBE – REFUGE DE LA COIRE

After a small climb above the refuge, the landscape opens onto large snowy fields with the Mont Blanc massif in panorama. The summer pastures have given way to these stretches that allow to cross quietly to the cornet of Arêches and the small refuge of the Chur. Possibility to make a detour to one of the peaks close to the route. Overnight at the refuge, in dormitory.

5h walk / Altitude difference +/- 350m - 7km

+/- 100m for the Breakthrough Stone

Day 3

CORNER PASS – BRESSON PASS – PRESSET REFUGE

Immersion in the massif with a passage at the foot of the famous Pierra Menta, superb tooth laid on a tapered ridge. The day starts with the climb to the Col du Coin, quite steep, but without difficulty. Descent into the nearby valley then climb to the Bresson pass before crossing to the refuge of Presset and its lake. Night in dormitory at the refuge, with panoramic view.

6h30 walk / Altitude difference +850m -450m - 8km

Day 4

REFUGE DE LA BALME – SAINT GUERIN

After a night in front of «the stone», descent on Saint Guérin through the refuge of the Balme. The valley runs along the culminant point of the massif and almost 3000: the Roignais (2995m). Transfer and end of the stay in Grand Naves.

4h walk/ Altitude difference -1100m - 8km

End of the mid-afternoon stay in Naves.
